

Software Services

Besides our own software we also offer customer-specific solutions for a variety of applications. We provide programs and tools for data migration as well as for data management. Further we have extensive knowledge of different web-applications to provide specialized information via the intra- or internet. Our software development team is able to fall back on our many years of experience and has the required expertise to find the fitting software solution for our customers.

Focus of activity

- Adaption of our own software to special requirements
- Share point services to provide professional databases
- Project-management-software (web-based organization tools)
- Data migration and developing interfaces
- Connection of our software to process control (SCADA) systems
- Monitoring solutions for SCADA systems of urban hydrology

Services

- Development of interfaces
- Database development and programming
- Development of specialized evaluation routines

References

DP-tools for radar rain data
Web-based monitoring Dresden